WESTERN STATES IN MARKET FOR BADGER CATTLE

Madison—The states of the west are ready and eager for Wisconsin's pure bred cattle, according to Reid Murray, secretary of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association, who has just returned from a six weeks' tour of the western states with a train carrying an exhibit of Wisconsin stock.

"In all states we visited we were cordially received and our stock appeared to make a most favorable impression," Mr. Murray said. "The people of the west are coming to realize that they will get much better results from fine dairy cows such as we raise in Wisconsin. They want to stock their farms with high grade animals. I believe Wisconsin stockmen will do an increased business with western states during the coming year as a result of our tour."

ONLY TWO NORMAL TEACHERS RESIGN

Whitewater to Have Practical Same Staff for New School Year

Whitewater.—With the summer session commencement exercises, July 27, Whitewater normal closed for a six weeks' recess. Most of the teachers of the summer session will leave for various parts of the United States, to return in September.

In an interview, President Hyer said he had to date received but two resignations from members of his faculty. Miss Alice Bebe, dean of women, and H. W. Heinberger, assistant in science and education. President Hyer said every effort will be made to maintain the school at its present standards until funds for capital and maintenance are provided.

No Money for Repairs

"The adjournment of the legislature in July without the passage of any appropriation bill," he said, "leaves us only a continuing appropriation for teachers' salaries and operating expenses. We have nothing for necessary repairs and new equipment. In July, 1922, the normal board established a salary schedule for all normal school teachers. This schedule was approved by the legislature of 1921 in its appropriation bill. Many of the Whitewater normal faculty have now reached the maximum set by the schedule. Since only the continuing appropriation is available, none of my teachers can receive an increase which they were promised in 1922 until a special session provides necessary funds. In the face of this, I am particularly pleased with the manner in which the Whitewater teachers have responded and, because of their loyalty to the school, have decided to assist me in maintaining the best school possible until financial help can be granted."

Central Heating Plant Completed

The central heating plant, completed last winter, will be hooked up to the pipes in the main building within the next two weeks. All of the boilers in the old, dilapidated boiler room of the main building are being removed.

It is reported the state architects plans and specifications are in such shape that excavating may be started early this fall for the last wing. The school has been cramped for room for several years. The 1921 legislature appropriated $300,000 for a new addition but funds have never been released to take care of the project.

With the addition of a new wing and the final completion of the central heating plant, the school will be in good shape to offer the courses in teacher training allotted to this teachers college.

Each member worked an hour passing out the handbills which said: "Watch arterials! Better safe than sorry. Set a good example by avoiding danger. Don't take chances, you may lose once. Parking on concrete has caused many an accident. Are you going to drive the death car? Don't be a road hog. Don't take a chance on cutting in. Don't gamble life. Wait and be safe."

Because of insufficient patronage, the heavy state vehicle license tax which motor buses must pay effective July 1, 1923, and the local license fees which many communities are now charging motor buses, this company is being forced to discontinue a number of its lines which, while convenient to the public, are distinctly unprofitable to operate. For these reasons there will be discontinued on Wednesday, August 1, bus service between Delavan and Janesville which has been operated for some time over Highway 20. Motor bus service between Burlington and Delavan via Lake Geneva and Elkhorn will be continued as heretofore. $25,000 PIPE JOB AWARDED BY CITY

Thorne Gets Sewer Contract—Mrs. Hewitt Offered Detention Hospital Post.

Award of Janesville's 1923 sewer main contract to Garrett T. Thorne, Chicago, on his bid of $25,000, appointed by the city council, was made Monday at the city hall. Thorne, 21 North Pearl street, as the new matron at the detention hospital, and decision to purchase a well equipped boat for use of the fire and police departments in drowning cases, constituted the principal business transacted by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Chief Charles Newman was instructed to provide special police for the Janesville fair next week at a cost not to exceed $250 and to be borne by the city. Remodeling of the fourth ward park drinking fountain and two new street lights were also ordered.

Thorne's bid for laying 242 miles of mains to the city's sanitary sewer system this year was the lowest of three submitted and the recommendation of the committee of public works that he be given the contract was accepted unanimously. Other bidders were G. W. Mulholland, Rockford, $26,614; and Ebbetts Bros., Mayville, $33,948.

The contractor must start work by Aug. 15 and finish by Nov. 15, and the specifications call for 11,165 feet of 8-inch main, 978 of 10-inch, 642 of 30-inch, 37 manholes and six lampholes in eight sewer districts. Councilman C. Starr Atwood made the motion that Thorne be given the work.

Sanic Salary for Matron.

The resignation of Mrs. Harriet B. Flaherty as matron at the detention hospital was accepted, effective, in 30 days, and upon resolution of Councilman Mrs. Emma H. Manning of the health committee it was unanimously voted to offer the position to Mrs. Hewitt at the same salary and under the same conditions. Mrs. Manning said Mrs. Hewitt had already expressed her desire for the office and that she was recommended by Councilman Welch, local health officer, and Dr. L. M. Field, Beloit health officer.

The salary of the matron is $420 a year, plus $3 per day for each patient cared for by her. She is also given free heat, light and water by the city.

Through another resolution offered by Mrs. Manning, it was voted to enter into an agreement with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company whereby that organization will pay the city 75 cents to $1 for each call made by the visiting nurse on a person needing it and who is a policy holder in that company. It will mean a revenue of probably $40 a month to the city and the nurse, Miss Hulda M. Andrews, has expressed a willingness to go into it.

Mrs. Manning explained it will not mean much in addition to the work she is already doing.

Boat Hadly Needed.

Calling attention to the recent drowning tragedy here, Councilman

George A. Jacobs brought out the need for a good boat and extra equipment in the nature of drag hooks and ropes to be kept continuously at one of the fire stations for use in such mishaps.

"We should have a boat that is always ready and can be put in the water on short notice," declared Mr. Jacobs.

On his resolution, the purchase of such equipment was ordered unanimously.

Arrange for Fair Police.

Mr. Jacobs' recommendation, that the following men be deputized as special police without pay for service during the Janesville fair, was passed: John Soulmair, P. P. Crook, Edward Duthie, J. A. Craig, Oscar Nelson, Thornton Read, J. J. McCann and Harvey Little, all directors of the Park association.

As chairman of the public safety committee, Councilman Jacobs was authorized to appoint additional special police for the fair, as may be necessary. Last year it cost the city about $500 for policing the fair grounds during the four days of the exposition, but it was agreed that this year the municipal expenditures should be limited to $250, with any additional men necessary to be paid for by the fair association.

Three Manager Applications.

Three new applications for the position of city manager were received and placed on file without any discussion. They were from the following: L. P. Atwood, Madison; H. R. Cain, Angola, Ind.; and J. R. Myher, Stevens Point.

Sign erection permits, the first granted under the new sign ordinance, which requires the building inspector to supervise and pass on applications, were issued as follows: J. L. Tira company, 10 North Main street, 2 by 8, electric; G. W. Hare, 204 East Milwaukee street, 6 by 2, electric; Premo Bros., 21 North Main street, 8 by 8, electric; George K. Koutas, 20 South Main street, 2 by 5; and Robert Hockett, 213 West Milwaukee street, 2 by 4 by 14.

On recommendation of the committee of public works and upon motion of Councilman William McCue, it was decided to pay $2,500 to the Mierswa Construction company as part payment on the Eastern avenue outlet sewer project recently completed. The order called for the city treasurer to take care of certain of the company's obligations rather than paying the money directly to the concern. The Mierswa contract was entered into July 11, 1921.

Included in the 25 vouchers ordered paid on resolution of Councilman McCue was one for $25 for repairs on the dance hall at Riverside park, payable to Boos, Ford & Sons.

At the instigation of Councilman A. Gibbons, all candle-power street lights were ordered installed on Forest avenue, midway between Augusta street and Garfield avenue; and on Dodge street, midway between South High and South Academy streets.

Sewer Extension Sought.

A petition was received from property owners on North Pine street and Mineral Point avenue asking for extension of the North Pine street storm sewer from Mineral Point avenue west to Oak Hill avenue, and also for a section on Oak Hill avenue from Mineral Point to Highland avenue.

At the suggestion of Councilman Atwood, this petition was referred to City Engineer C. V. Kersch for investigation.

In order to save water and to remedy present "troublesome" conditions, Mr. Atwood asked that the Fourth ward park drinking fountain be rebuilt so as to have one stream serve the bubble and horse fountains rather than five or six as at present. After some discussion his motion was adopted, and it was agreed that if the cost does not run too high, similar steps should be taken on the First ward fountain. The saving on water will pay for the work in two or three years alone, Mr. Atwood predicted.

A license was granted Arnold Fuchs to excavate in the streets, and George Flakas of the Reliable Bus company secured a license to operate a bus between Janesville and Stoughton.

The speed patrolman, George Porter, is having trouble almost continually with the city's motorcyclo. Councilman Cobb said, and he recommended that some sort of action be taken. The generator is out of order now, he reported, and there are other troubles which make it almost inadvisable to continue to maintain it. After short discussion it was decided to lay the matter over until the next meeting for action.

President J. K. Jensen called on Councilman Gibbons to make a report on what has been done by combining the municipal purchases of coal for the coming winter, but the latter said that he has given additional time in order to make a comprehensive report on all the purchasing that has been done.

Councilman Boyd C. Gardner was the only absentee at Monday night's meeting. The session was late in getting started, owing to a 20-minute session with Glen G. Snyder in regard to the city sealer controversy.

Solie Lumber

Firm Proposes

$3,000 Remodeling

Repairs and remodeling to cost in the neighborhood of $3,000 and being planned by the Solie Lumber company, 16 North River street, the property on which the yards stand being owned jointly by the Solie firm, P. H. Quinn and Thomas Macklin.

New roofs are proposed for some of the sheds and it is probable a large brick wall will be erected along the west side to replace the present wall. It was the suggested erection of this wall that caused P. J. E. Wood to appear before the city council Monday night representing the Solie company, in an effort to obtain a permit which was finally granted after considerable discussion.

It appears that the present west wall is on city property, as it extends into the street line and Mr. Wood called the council's attention to adjoining buildings which also are partially on the street line, according to the city's contention. His request was that they be allowed to erect a new west wall on the same spot as the present one stands with the express understanding that the city will not be valuing any of its rights. That is, in case it is ever decided to open up North River street to its full width, the city can do so without any difficulty.

Mr. Wood said the new wall would be an improvement to the property and lessen the fire hazard in that district.

"The bolsheviks have got it fixed now so that it's impossible to build a structure in accordance with the state building code," said Mr. Wood in speaking of regulations in regard to fire walls for every 7,500 square feet of new structures. "I know something of the way things are after having gone through with this theater business where they require you to have more exits than suits."

Building inspector George Slinham was authorized to grant the Solie company a permit in case the work complies with the city building code, on motion of Councilman George A. Jacobs.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE EXHIBIT INCLUDED IN JANSVILLE FAIR

There will be the usual domestic science and manual training exhibits and prizes at the Janesville fair this year. It is stated, although the premium book carried neither of these sections. It was an oversight, say fair officials, and these two departments will be conducted as usual.

Secretaries working now at the Chamber of Commerce ask that entries be made as soon as possible, to avoid confusion later. Many think that they cannot make entries until just before the fair, but they may be sent in now.

Miss Rosemary Enright, school attendance officer, is among the workers now at the Chamber of Commerce. Headquarters will be at the fair grounds next week.

JANESVILLE AUTO DESTROYED BY FIRE

A 1921 Dort roadster owned by Ira Doll, 102 North Academy street, was demolished by fire Sunday near the Lake Koshkonong station. It is believed the fire was caused by a short circuit in the wiring. No extinguisher was available and all attempts to stop the fire were in vain. The gasoline tank did not explode. The accident happened at a quarter mile from the station at 3:30 a. m. The car was insured for $500.

100° in the Shade or 10° below Zero!

One hundred degrees in the shade or ten below zero, meat deliveries to your retailer go steadily on, so that you may be assured of just the kind and quality of meat that you desire.

No city is so far removed from live stock production that it cannot receive its regular supply of fresh meats.

Compare this with the meat supply of thirty or forty years ago. Summer weather then meant salt or pickled meats in the country, and a limited variety of fresh meats in most cities.

Refrigeration, developed by scientists, has made it possible for Swift & Company, and other packers, to prepare fresh meats and ship them long distances in refrigerator cars, so that today, without regard to heat or cold, meat reaches your dealer fresh, clean, and wholesome.

In addition to the fresh meats thus available, Swift & Company prepares a variety of tempting meats for hot weather:

Swift's Premium Cooked Ham, mild and sweet, smoked over hard wood fires, is always delicious.

Swift's Premium Frankfurts, from our modern sanitary kitchens, offer a choice blending of meats and spices.

Swift's Sausage Specialties and Swift's Dry Sausage, ready to serve, help lighten the housewife's summer task.

In addition to these, a score of other Summer Specialties are made available by Swift & Company's research and development work.

Our profit from all sources averages only a fraction of a cent a pound.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Methodist church, corner of Broad and Court streets, facing the north side of the park, attracted several hundred people from all denominations. Dr. Frederick Case, Janesville gave a scholarly address, using many quotations from Shakespeare and old English writers on the dignity and sacredness of work, using man ever as a builder, building in this life, church life and for life eternal, and pointing out that the golden hours of life are the hours when we are in the thick of work. He spoke for true worship and lifting the banner of honest labor. District-Superintendent Turner, also of Janesville, assisted the local pastors.

One of the largest funerals held in the city was that for Albert Reed, Monday, who met death in an auto accident in California a week ago. The flower-blanketed casket was carried by six of his high school classmates: Hollis Peck, Clifford Wiswell, Alvin May, Glen Walbrant, Kenneth Morrissey and Wilfred Opitz, the other members attending in a body. CLEANER CITY IS GOAL OF BOARD

Recommendation to the city council that Mrs. Florence Hewitt be appointed matron of the city detention hospital was made at the monthly meeting of the board of health in the office of City Health Officer Dr. Fred B. Welch Monday afternoon. She was highly recommended by Dr. Welch, who spoke of her experience in Beloit and of recommendations she has there. She succeeds Mrs. Harriet B. Flaherty.

Sewerage Problem Up.
There was considerable discussion of the sewerage question, and the board, in an attempt to be fair to all, is to attempt to make some plan whereby payments for sewerage and water to replace outdoor toilets, can be spread out over a certain period.

The board wanted the city ordinance clearly states that all homes must have indoor toilets, and it is the duty of the board to enforce the ordinance. Heretofore orders to install water have been made by the department only after neighbors or others file a complaint, but this it was brought out did not seem fair, especially when several people along one street had outdoor toilets and an order would be served only on one person, and perhaps that person was one who could not easily stand the expense.

Tourist Camp Discussed.
"The sewerage question is a big one in every town," said Dr. Welch, "and Janesville has an ordinance which clearly states our course."

Others of the board expressed themselves as desirous of seeing every home in Janesville with an inside toilet. No new outside toilets may be made.

From our point of view," said City Sanitary Inspector Leigh J. Woodworth, "our objective is not just to make people spend money and put in inside toilets—we want all outside toilets eliminated because they are such fly-breeder and menace to the public health. The matter of comfort stations was discussed, but no action taken. The board agreed that more adequate toilet facilities should be made at the tourist camp.

Bring in your family ironing tomorrow and have Mrs. Ullery show you how the Horton Do-All will iron it at Victoria Bros. & Butler, 18 S. River.

Some month's that they can't be fooled twice in the same way—but there are lots of other ways.

SHERIFF AWAITS ACTION OF BOARD

Dance Hall Regulation and Highway Police Held Up Pending Meeting.

Regulation of county dances, outside of the new state law, will be delayed until action has been taken by the county board, Sheriff Fred Beley said Tuesday.

The new state law provides for the regulation of dances, outside of the city, by the county board, which has power to conduct their operation in the proper manner.

Hundreds Caught by Game of "Free Sugar" Swindler

If any Janesville people have been caught in the sugar swindle, they have been quiet about it, for none has reported. Monroe residents and others in this section and all over the state and southern Minnesota, were taken in by the guile of a supposed agent of a grocery concern who took their mail order for $5.51 worth of groceries, with which they were to secure 25 pounds of sugar free.

A few days later, a package came, the housewives paid for it, C. O. D. and found, upon opening, only a few of the ordered groceries. There was also a note saying the sugar and remainder of the groceries would come later. They haven't yet, and the swindler is still at large with a reported $25,000. His name is James E. Miller and is supposedly from Minneapolis.

Rotary Hears of New Advertising

Advertising is an exact science and a matter of established principles, said L. A. Crowell of Benson, Gamble and Crowell, national advertisers to Rotarians, at Tuesday luncheon. He said it is an exact science, two-handed—man power and print power.

He told of the three things that must be right—product, price, and place of advertising. He gave as one of the shining examples of what good advertising will do—the Park or Pen plant. The advertising scheme of this company, he said, is studied by commerce students in 55 universities of the United States, including Columbia, Yale, Harvard, Wisconsin and Illinois.

James Piffled presided in absence of the president, H. S. Lovejoy.

100 WAYS TO MAKE MONEY

By BILLY WINNER. If I Were a Teamster— I WOULD own a team or truck of my own, and I would keep it busy making money for me. Lots of people want teaming done now and then. They don't know whom to get to do the work. Maybe they want only one job a year, but there are enough of these people in Janesville to make a steady job for any teamster who lets them know his services are on the market.

I would run a Want Ad in Janesville Gazette, let people know about my teaming service. When they wanted anything done in my line they would come to me.

Sooner or later I'd probably have to put on more teams and more drivers or more trucks, but that would only increase my profits.

WHY WASHINGTON BOOMS

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington. In his autobiography, Benjamin Franklin tells an anecdote of an old man whose most conspicuous trait was a lack of faith in the real estate values of great cities. Dr. Franklin says he remembers as a youth how the old man used to tell his acquaintances in the city of Philadelphia that anyone was extremely foolish to buy land or houses or make any permanent investment in the city. Any such investor, said the old breaker, was sure to lose his money. He kept this up for years, seemingly blind to the splendid growth the important provincial capital was making while he was uttering his dolorous prophecies.

Dr. Franklin remarks that years later he saw the old man finally decide to buy a house. He paid for it three times what it would have cost him when he began his dismal prognostications 20 or 30 years earlier.

Such an anecdote, related with the strong authority of such a man as Franklin, serves as the best possible example of what has been happening in the capital city of Washington. Every old boy knows the early history of the national capital—how its site was selected by general Washington himself and how its magnificent streets were laid out by Major L'Enfant, an eminent French engineer. What, perhaps, is not so widely known is the new era of growth which has come to Washington with the war.

One of the excellent reasons why Philadelphia continued to grow in spite of predictions to the contrary, was that it was the provincial capital of Pennsylvania while it was the seat of the federal government. There were other good reasons why Franklin's city should grow but the presence of the governmental machinery was enough to give it a good start. An advantage which Washington has over such a city as Philadelphia is that it is not the temporary station of a transient government machine, but the well-established, permanent location of the greatest government in the world.

"Washington," said one of the statesmen at the Paris peace conference, following the great war, "now is the capital of the world."

From the point of view of the residents of the city itself, Washington was lucky in being a relatively small city at the time of its accession to world-wide greatness. London, Paris, Rome—other great capitals of the world—have long been cities of tremendous size. Washington has ranked well down the scale in population comparison with them. Therefore, the rise of Washington to so great a position of prominence has produced a civic boom which is bound to be of long duration.

It is true that before 1917, there were some vestiges of the provincial about the national capital. With the entrance of the United States into the World war all this was changed. Almost overnight the population of Washington was swelled by 150,000 persons.

Washington and important fact about this growth of Washington relates to the type of population which the war brought. Population in general census terms, means men, women and children, the aged and infirm and indigent—in short, everybody. The 150,000 population which suddenly was added to Washington was different. It was made up largely of active adults. It was made up of workers, from millionaire dollar-a-year men to flapper stenographers.

Some officials and others brought families along, but for the most part the new population was adult. To census terms, a tide of 150,000 persons usually means about 75,000 active adults or less. In Washington's case it meant that almost all of the 150,000 were of the type to make constant demands on the facilities of the city. They did not represent children and invalids who would stay at home, but rather workers who demanded service and, above all, independent and separate places to live.

Everyone has heard the fantastic stories of how millionaires lived in basements and stenographers slept in attics. They were not exaggerated. The result was an immediate rush to build houses, apartments and hotels. The end of the war brought an exodus of many, but by no means all. It is estimated that the net gain of the capital was around 75,000.

Washington casts a spell over people who spend any time here. After their official tasks are accomplished, they continue to live at the capital city. The former presidents make Washington their home. Wilson and Taft. Former cabinet members, former senators and veterans of the war in congress and a host of minor officials are also permanent residents. In addition, Washington has its colony of millionaires—men who have amassed fortunes in industry and have retired to live in the capital city of the world—the seat of affairs of the leading nation.

These are the elements which have exempted Washington from ups and downs of the building boom. The boom continues unabated and gives promise of going so indefinitely. Even sleepy old Georgetown, the ancient city which was a Potomac river port of entry before Washington was even planned and now is contiguous with the capital, has undergone a startling change. Its quiet, elm-shaded streets, have become an exclusive residential section and century old mansions have been remodeled.

The billion dollar surfaces of Washington's asphalt streets, the maze of roads and park and greensward, the circle of golf and country clubs surrounding the city, the lordly Potomac and, above all, the scores of great public buildings and monuments join in making Washington increasingly a Mecca for the people of the country who can come here. As an incident of the charm of Washington, one of the most prominent professional men of the city came here some years ago on a sight-seeing trip. He moved to Washington and has remained here ever since, still contented and prosperous. The fact that this case is multiplied by thousands is what makes Washington proof against the periodical slumps which affect other cities.

From an economic point of view, an important fact is that Washington is the one city in the country with a guaranteed payroll. Twice a month millions of dollars are distributed in pay checks to Uncle Sam's employees.

Recently President Harding announced that the administration had reached the conclusion that a new period of expansion of federal government accommodations at Washington is imperative. The existing great structures have become overcrowded.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE SAILOR

'Twere fine to be a sailor-man
And ship away to sea;
To know I had in every land
A friend who'd faithful be;
To come to land and have him stand
On shore to welcome me.

'Twere fine to know so many things
That every boy would know;
So much to teach within my reach,
So very much to show;
To hold a boy with so much joy
Wherever I may go.

A ship is filled with wonderment
To every youthful eye,
With ropes and rings and chains and things
And brilliant flags to fly.
'Twere fine to work while pleasures lurk
And lads are standing by.

A sailor man can hold a boy
When weather and time would fail.
He'll leave his play to glad my day
To watch him mend a sail.
And sitting still, will drink his fill
Of many a curious tale.

But I must work before a desk
Until the day shall end;
I hold no joy for my boy,
With words my time I spend.
But rich is he who sails the sea,
For every lad's his friend.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON

THEY HAD THEIR REASONS.

An up-state editor sent out a lot of postal cards to the married men of his town with the inquiry: "Why did you leave home?" Among the answers he received were the following:

"That's what I have been trying for eleven years to find out."

"Married to get even with her mother, but never have."

"Because I was too lazy to work."—I. V.

"Because Sarah told me five other men had proposed to her."—C.

"The old man thought eight years courtin' was almost long enough."—B.

"It was a long and tedious process, and wanted some one to make me lively." N. E.—She makes me very lively."—D.

"I was tired of buying ice cream and candies and going to theaters and church and wanted a rest."—Have you any?—C. C.

Who's Who Today

REV. WILLIAM DAVE

If a third political party is formed this fall to support Henry Ford for president, much of the actual work of creation probably will be done by a man who is quite as unusual a figure in politics as is Ford himself.

The Rev. William Dave, head of the Dearborn, Mich., Ford-for-President club and unofficial spokesman for the more than 300 Ford clubs in the United States and their 1,000,000 members, which he formed from the nucleus of the third party, was born in Cornwall, England, and has been a Methodist minister 55 years. For six years he was pastor of the Dearborn Methodist Episcopal church, which has been attended by the Ford family.

He left Cornwall before he was twenty and settled in Ford's Dearborn, where he preached and studied law. On a visit to Chicago in 1871, he decided to attend Northwestern University and Garrett Biblical Institute, after which he was given his first pastorate in Bay City, Mich.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood is expected to announce his course in the 1934 presidential campaign when he addresses the Alabama legislature today.

Because a marked decrease in crime has made them no longer necessary, two Massachusetts jails, one in Ipswich and the other in Newburyport, are to be sold at public auction today.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

July 31, 1893.—Willie Hines, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hines, and 14 years old, drowned in the river at Monterey this morning. He and some other boys were getting ready to swim when Willie fell off the high swimment into the water, which kept him from swimming. Little Joe Burns was bitten in the face by a dog yesterday, but no serious results will follow.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

July 31, 1893.—Railroad officials are considering a union depot here, the only objection being the lack of space. The Northwestern is sure to build within a year, it is said, and St. H. Shuck, Chicago, has secured the lease of the Myers Opera house and will put it on a circuit that will insure good productions.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

July 31, 1913.—The usual exodus of those afflicted with hay fever, who annually go to the north, has started.—Leo Brownell, promoter of this city, is still in the match at Racine, now in an advanced stage. There are but two vacancies in the teaching list for the city, Armstrong and Mr. Whitcomb having resigned.

TEN YEARS AGO

July 31, 1923.—Moose band is giving a public concert in the park tonight.—Charles Sanders has resigned his position as purchasing agent for the Janesville Machine company, an office he has held for more than a year. There are but two cases of contagious disease in the city other than tuberculosis. City Health Officer Dr. Fred B. Welch reports.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

COATED TONGUE

The only way the old doctor had to stop the flow of chatter for a moment was to ask the patient to let him see his tongue. From my experience in practice I prefer this to the numerous deductions and conclusions the medical fathers were wont to draw from the appearance of the tongue. More or less influenced by the blessed brief intervals of silence vouchsafed by this ceremony.

A coated tongue tells a story if it can be restrained long enough for the doctor to inspect it thoroughly, but by no means betrays what ails the patient. In fact it is unusual to find a healthy individual without any coating on the back of the tongue.

Whenever an illness, acute or chronic, slight or severe, impairs the appetite and removes the normal inclination to masticate food, the tongue is sure to become more or less coated or furled. If even a healthy individual takes a liquid diet for a few days, say a milk diet, his tongue will probably acquire a coating. If one subsists on a diet which is too refined and which therefore makes no demand upon mastication, the tongue is likely to wear a fur coat. Any considerable loss or defect of the teeth, preventing thorough mastication, tends to keep a coat on the tongue.

In some cases a yellow coating on the back of the tongue, noticed particularly in the morning and perhaps during the day, is due to a disordered condition in the mouth, is due to reverse peristalsis which carries material back from the stomach or even from the duodenum (where the bile is delivered into the liver) and deposits it on the tongue. This condition is common to many diseases of the digestive organs and the bile apparatus, and is a common complaint in "just plain overeating."

Fletcherism is the logical remedy for a coated tongue. Just what Fletcherism is one can best learn by reading Horace Fletcher's "The New Diet or Epilogue," "The A. B. C. of Our Own Nutrition," published by the Frederick A. Stokes company, New York, N. Y., obtainable in most book stores.

Fletcherism is a diet which the layman not to take all that Fletcher teaches too seriously, particularly not his extreme suggestion of reflecting the residue that does not digest in the mouth. More thorough chewing of every morsel, however, is a healthful practice for everybody, and it is also helpful to select a reasonable proportion of food which one can digest with some satisfaction. The unimpaired cereals, particularly wheat, make excellent chewing. Wheat bran, plain, raw, baked, or in various forms, is another good food, and wholesome thing to chew on. Lemons, oranges and apples are good.

A.—This letter written in the emergency arising from the German offensive of March 21, 1918 is simple and direct, truly the message of a soldier. It reads: "March 21, 1918. General Pershing: I have come to say to you that the American people would hold it a great honor for our troops were they engaged in the great battle of the Marne. I am proud to be of the American people. There is at this moment no other question than that of fighting. Infantry, artillery, aviation, and we have are yours to dispose of as you will. Others are coming who will be as numerous as may be necessary. I have come to say to you that the American people would be proud to be engaged in the greatest battle of history. Pershing." SeCheverell for the present will be located at Grand Island, Neb.

Before coming to Madison as secretary of the railroad commission, Mr. SeCheverell was an executive of the Chicago and North Western Railway company, resigning in 1918 to take up war work. He served as Y. M. C. A. secretary with the 27th division in France.

RACINE PUTS BAN

ON CARNIVALS TO PROTECT LODGES

The city council of Racine has passed an ordinance barring carnivals and similar shows. The council took action in order to protect the fraternal societies of the city from the "bejeweled advance man" who was able to sell his show and get a rebate of the license money, as well as the best part of the receipts, according to several members who spoke on the subject. An effort is to be made also to have the county board pass an ordinance refusing license to carnivals to show "just outside the city."

WHAT IS A JUST RATE?

A misinformed person's idea of a reasonable rate for a public service is the lowest rate at which he can get that service. Yet too low a rate might wreck the industry, and where would the customers benefit? The question should not be whether you can get a thousand feet of gas a few cents cheaper. It should be a question of whether the gas is there when you want it for your business success and social comfort, and at a price which will enable the gas company to stay in business.

NOW--TODAY!

Now is the time to equip your kitchen so that you will be free from coal worries during the remainder of the summer and for the years to come. At no time during the year is the demand for Gas Ranges greater than now.

Housewives are quick to appreciate that a gas kitchen insures well cooked meals, plenty of hot water and fuel for ironing, at all times—economical, without labor or fuss. See the Gas Range and Gas Water Heaters at our Showroom.

WHO WANTS A BEAUTIFUL MAHOG

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

THE FIRST SEMBLANCE of a Wisconsin state horse shoe pitching organization comes with the announcement that there will be a state meet in this city at Milwaukee the end of August. Under the plan of operation, those at the head of the state tourney are getting in contact with the secretaries of the more than 40 clubs in Wisconsin, urging them to organize and run tourneys this year. The Janesville fair, which was one of the first to take up and push the idea, will hold its second annual tournament for chuckers of the "open shoe." The state plan will permit the winners of the Janesville meet to compete in the state classic.

THESE arrangements provide an added incentive to the followers of the sport of southern Wisconsin to get in under the Janesville tourney. The meet, which will be held on Friday, Aug. 10, will be open to all pitchers of this section. There is to be no limit on the number of men who will send in the blank pitcher on this page. It is but a few days before the 10 excellent courts on the fair grounds here will be the scene of the competition, with cash prizes being offered this year and, perhaps more than $100 to be split, the meet should draw a heavy entry. Talk it up among your friends.

Duluth bids for 1924 rowing regatta.

Diamond Sparkles (By A. P.)—Chinaman, playing on my lot, climbed back to second place by defeating Philadelphia in doubleheader while Glants split with Pittsburgh.

In two close fought games, Reds managed to come out on top, 7-5, and 6-3. Glants, playing in Pittsburgh, lost one game, 4-1, to the Aussies and one to the home team, 1-0. The Aussies, however, won the series, 3-2, by winning 17-2 in American league, leaders took step backward. Although Yankees won from Chicago 5-3, Cleveland Americans took double header from Boston and "Cru" won half game. They won 5-4 and 2-0. There were nine double plays in two games, six contributed by Cleveland.

In Philadelphia, McGraw's second out two home runs for St. Louis Browns, accounting for four runs.

Several followed suit with another home and St. Louis won first game, 5-2. In second, they kept right on winning and took game, 4-2. Brooklyn's second game of scheduled double header halted by rain. Morris reelected with Cincinnati won second game of double header, 2-1.

Nineteen horses start in 500 mile endurance race in Colorado.

LAST YEAR'S meet drew a heavy entry from all sections of the southern end of the state. This year there should be many more. The game a year ago was not much more than a picnic. With the discovery of the pitching of the open shoe and trying for rings instead of just points, players saw the game change from one of chance to one of skill. The momentousness and control of the shoe was introduced, interest grew. There are any number of pitchers around this section, whose men are practicing and waiting to have the bent metal one and three-quarter turns through the air so that it may land with the open end draping the stick, a noticeable feature of the game is the way competitors tip each other off on the manner their shoes are falling and the high jump of the shoe in the throw. Sportsmanship generated by neighborliness makes the game one of friendship.

Gene Turner, American light heavyweight champion, and Dan Dowd meet at New York Tuesday.

Mike McGuire, world's light heavyweight champion, will defend title against Tommy Loughran at West New York, Thursday. Augie Rainer, New York, defeated Ted (Kid) Lewis, former middleweight champion, on points at London (20). Arthur Schlaifer, Omaha, stopped Jimmy Clabby (2). SCHEDULE SHIFTED TO GIVE 2 GAMES DURING THIS WEEK

CITY KITTEN LEAGUE.

W. L. Pct.
K. of C. 5 0 1.000
Lakotas 1 8 .063
Parker Pen 2 2 .500
Kiwanis 2 3 .400
Gazette 4 2 .667
Elks 0 5 .000

After a week's lay-off, the city kitten ball league gets back into action when the six teams clash at the fair grounds at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Three of the best games of the season are due to be played which the squads lineup against each other in the following fashion:

Gazette vs. Knights of Columbus; Lakotas vs. Parker Pen, and the Kiwanis versus the Elks.

Battle for Second.

Though the Gazette will be without the services of some of its regulars, due to vacations and illness, the competition will be a warning to the league-leading Knights. The Lakota and Parker Pen game promises a hot time with a chance for the Parkers to tie things up for second place by a victory.

Kiwanis-Elks clash and to this will be added the ambition of the Elks to climb from the subterranean chamber.

Two sessions of the circuit are to be held this week. The second will be on Friday at 6:15, when games that were postponed because of the presence of the circus here last week, will be played. These will bring the teams together in the following lineups:

Lakotas vs. Kiwanis; Parker Pen vs. Gazette; Elks vs. Knights of Columbus.

This week's contests mark the start of the second round of the season. Because of the Janesville fair next week, the schedule committee has advanced the contests one day. Now week's games are to be played on Monday night. They will be played on Monday night, Aug. 13, at 6:15 p. m.
